

Sunday Evening Lectures

Uri, French Economic Chief, Inaugurates Series Oct. 8

By LORETTA CARR

Pierre Uri, the French minister of economy and finance, will initiate the 1967-68 Sunday Evening Lecture Series at the FCC Cafeteria Oct. 8.

This program is presented as a public service by the State Center Junior College District. The series director is Larry Kavanaugh, FCC public information officer.

Uri was instrumental in the planning and formation of the European Common Market.

Drew Pearson

Drew Pearson, syndicated columnist and radio and television commentator, is scheduled to speak in Madera Nov. 4. The site of the lecture will be announced at a later date. Pearson is best known for his column, the Washington Merry-Go-Round.

Returning to the FCC Cafeteria Dec. 3, the series will feature reporter Sander Vanocur. Vanocur appears on the award-winning Huntley-Brinkley Report for the National Broadcasting Company.

Al Capp, the creator of Li'l Abner, will speak Feb. 18. Capp's comic strip has established Sadie Hawkins Day as probably the most famous nonlegal holiday in the country.

Anthropologist

Anthropologist Oscar Lewis will lecture Mar. 17. Lewis has been professor of anthropology at the University of Illinois since 1948. Travels in Latin America have resulted in cultural material for his book, Life In A Mexican Village: Tepoztlan Restudied.

Comedian Dick Gregory is scheduled to speak Mar. 31. Gregory has appeared in nightclubs all over the United States. He has also starred in a documentary series entitled Walk In My Shoes, an examination of Negro urban life.

The lectures which will be free and open to the public are scheduled to begin at 7:30 PM. Seating and admission will be on a first-come first-serve basis.

Remodeling Of Attendance, Data Centers Will Be Completed By Next Semester

By MARGY BARGER

All remodeling at FCC is scheduled to be completed by Apr. 15, said Garland P. Peed.

Peed is the Junior College District Superintendent of Business.

The Attendance Office, the Computer Data Processing Center and a biology lab are under construction now.

The Attendance Office, Administration 128, will be enlarged, and a partition will be constructed, separating the offices of the dean of men and the dean of women from the finance and attendance records departments.

Ease Traffic

The purpose of this is to serve students more efficiently during registration and to ease the traffic flow.

"Three entirely different groups go in and out of the department constantly," Robert Kelly, dean of instruction, said.

"This separation should eliminate a lot of the confusion and congestion."

Peed said the machinery previously used in the Computer Data Processing Center, Administration 158 and 160, was too cumbersome. A new computer, the Honeywell 200, is being installed in its place.

Sister Colleges Hold Joint Meet

A joint meeting will be held Oct. 25 between the Student Councils of FCC and Reedley College.

Kenneth Clark, a Student Council adviser, said the main purpose of the meeting is to get the two local colleges together to exchange ideas. They will try to jointly solve campus problems and boost the school's spirit.

The meeting will be held in FCC's Council chambers at 7 PM.

Student Officers Approve Record Budget For 1967

The fall 1967 budget of the associated student body, totaling $63,560, has been approved by the FCC Student Council.

"This is the biggest budget in the history of the college," said Ed Reid, treasurer.

The budget has been appropriated into five different funds: activities, athletics, organizations, publications, and general.

Athletic Fund

Most of the $20,568 athletic fund will go for insurance, laundry and cleaning, training supplies and awards and letters.

Publications received $12,960, which will be used for the Rampage, the Ram magazine, Potpourri, a literary magazine and general publicity for the school.

The general fund was allotted $11,318 to be used for transportation and an undistributed reserve. Also, a financial aid fund is set up for student scholarships.

Activity Allotment

The activities fund received $11,000. This money will be used for assemblies, conferences, a guest fund, leadership, social affairs, student welfare, telephone service, secretarial and recreation expenses.

Council Hires Center Hostess

Mrs. Bessie Doherty, a former FCC student, has been hired as the Student Center hostess. Her office is located in SC-222.

This is a new position, Miss Doris Deakins, the dean of women, said.

Jane Hill, student body secretary, said that the FCC Student Council felt that there was a need for a hostess and appropriated $1,750 for her salary during the fall semester.

Miss Deakins said the hostess' duties will include the issuing, maintenance and control of the equipment in the Student Lounge. She will also conduct various tournaments.

Mrs. Doherty will be responsible for the poster room and for issuing student body materials from the storage room.

Ramburger Roundup Offers Food, Music

By NANCY JENKINS

Let yourself be roped into the annual Ramburger Roundup and enjoy a big feed tomorrow from 5 to 7:30 PM.

Dishing up the Ramburgers and other vittles will be the FCC faculty and their side-kicks. Tickets can be purchased in the foyer of the Cafeteria or at the information desk between the Administration Building and McLane Hall. They cost 25 cents for students and 50 cents for guests.

Chow will be served on the pasture between the Administration Building and McLane Hall.

Stampede

After the Roundup, students will stampede enmasse over to Ratcliffe Stadium to support the Rams against Spokane Community College.

Music will be provided by the Slippery Rock Band. They have made many college appearances and have performed in several San Francisco coffee houses such as the Purple Onion.

"Booths will be constructed by various clubs," stated Terry Corbett, chuck wagon chairman. "A trophy will be awarded for the best one."

Committee

Ed Reid is trail boss for the Roundup. His assistants are Judy Kramer, booths; Jim Shaver, facilities; Jim Johnstone, entertainment; Terry Starr, tickets; Aglala Panos, personnel; and Miss Corbett, chow.

Draft Board Requires Formal Deferments

Students wishing to obtain draft deferments should file formal applications with their local draft board.

The deferments will no longer be granted without a formal request, said Mrs. Sally Singh, executive secretary for the Fresno Area Selective Service Board Group.

In order to qualify for the student (2S) status, one must be a full-time student in good standing and under 24 years of age.

Students enrolled in their second or third year must have attended full-time last year, Mrs. Singh said.

The deferment is issued for a period of one calendar year, instead of the academic (nine-month) year.

The requirement for formal application is one result of the new draft law which went into effect on June 30, 1967.

The criteria for student deferments were also changed by the new law. The number of units required for full-time status is determined by the individual colleges and not by Selective Service, Mrs. Singh said.

Class standing is no longer considered. The Selective Service College Qualification Test scores are no longer considered, either. The SSCQT has been discontinued, Mrs. Singh said.

Students who are deferred under the 2S status will be ineligible for deferment under the 3A (married men with dependents) classification.

Master Plan Prepared

State Junior College District Trustees Face Growth Versus Expansion Problem

Growth versus expansion is the main problem facing the State Center Junior College District trustees.

A preliminary master plan of expansion for the district was drawn up last year.

The idea in mind, said Garland Peed, an assistant superintendent, was to design a physical plant that will provide the most appropriate environment for the achievement of goals of a junior college education.

Tax Rejection

The first attempt to raise funds for the project was a 28-cent tax override last April. It was rejected by a 20 percent margin of the voters.

The district, therefore, still faces the problem of raising $37.5 million to finance building at FCC, Reedley College and a proposed third campus.

The 1967 SCJCD Board of Trustees have slightly changed plans for financing building needs this year, Peed said.

Special Elections

Voters will be asked at a special election Feb. 27 to approve a five-year tax override totaling $13,521,390 and a bond issue of approximately $23.5 million.

If the issues are rejected for the second time, more relocatable buildings will be built on campus with district funds through a leasing tax override, Peed said.

An urban renewal project for expanding FCC's campus is also in the planning stage.

The Fresno Redevelopment Agency has taken a first step toward providing additional land for the expansion of the campus.

Funds Application

They have submitted an application for funds for the $5 million project to the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The proposed plans for the expanded campus are bounded by University and McKinley Avenues and the railroad tracks on the west, Clinton Avenue on the east and Blackstone and Moroa.

The Fresno City Council has approved these plans, but the approval of the federal government is still needed.

GOING UP — These relocatable buildings near Maroa Avenue are nearing completion. If the tax override is rejected for a second time, more such buildings will be constructed to bridge the financial gap. Jockers Photo

Observations

Damhara Forms
Advisory Board

By BEV KENNEDY

Damhara, an art cooperative founded by Carol Flemming for the "turned on kids" of Fresno, now has a board of directors and a planned program budget.

It is also contemplating becoming an incorporated non-profit organization.

Not very long ago Damhara was struggling for existence. Now Miss Flemming said, "We're here to stay."

The board of directors is headed by Deputy Sheriff Luther Trexler, chairman; the Rev. W. B. Yinger, executive director of the Fresno Area Council of Churches, assistant chairman; and Ronald Elrod, a local businessman, secretary-treasurer.

Other board members are Dr. James A. Peal and Dr. Dale Wolfe of the Fresno County Department of Mental Health; Roger Bruinkool, Donald Clark, David Turbull, the Rev. Ned Romaine, Father Michael Braun, Msgr. Roger Mahony, the Rev. H. W. Neale and Evins R. Naman.

As director of the center, Miss Flemming will be salaried. Art classes, under the direction of Bruinkool, a local artist, will be held five nights a week, starting at 7 PM, Miss Flemming said.

On Mondays, Tuesdays and Fridays at 4 PM, Dr. Wolfe will hold what he calls "Mind Expanding Discussions."

All activities are open to anyone who cares to attend, said Miss Flemming.

The center is also headquarters for the Hip Job Co-op, a free employment service. Anyone wishing any jobs done should call 237-3509.

Damhara is also sponsoring a "free store," where contributed items will be given to those in need of them.

Rev. Yinger stated emphatically that Damhara is definitely not for everyone.

"The psychedelic generation is part of Damhara. The kids who go there are just middle class kids, not freaks. They like the art, the music, and the lights."

"Each person who comes to Damhara," Miss Flemming said, "is an individual, and I try to meet their individual needs. Most of them just need someone to talk to . . . actually, they need someone to listen."

Dean Cleland Comments
About Male Faculty Attire

While you've been dressing to meet the approval of your "scholarly elders," has it occurred to you to take a critical look at your instructor's attire?

"I believe strongly that the faculty of FCC (all inclusive) has an obligation to come to class appropriately dressed," said Richard Cleland, FCC's dean of men.

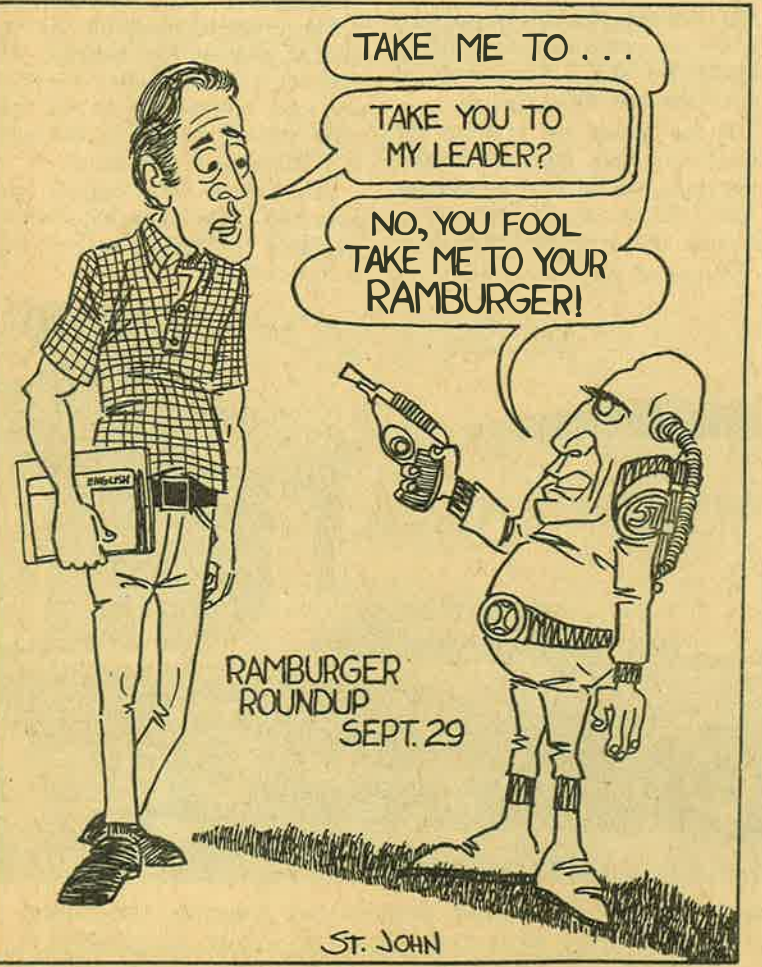

"Although women should dress in a fashion that is becoming to them individually, my criticism is primarily against the men of this institution."

Cleland said that if faculty members want the respect of the student, they must be aware of the effect the first impressions make.

"And don't think I haven't had students comment on their instructors' attire," Cleland said.

Expressing the students point of view, Ed Reid, Student Council treasurer, said, "Teachers should be allowed to dress the way they want to dress. If they are comfortably dressed, they'll teach better."

Jim Shaver, student body vice president, said, "I feel that the faculty should wear attire befitting their position as instructors."

FCC Students State Opinions
On U.S. Involvement In Viet Nam

By LORETTA CARR

Is the United States overrunning its boundaries of protecting interests into unnecessary interference?

This question was put to six FCC students: "What do you think the United States should do about Viet Nam?"

Tony Borrunda, first semester general education major: "I agree with Reagan that there should be immediate escalation. The allies should share equal responsibility."

"The war should be brought to a fast stop, but it won't be. North Viet Nam thinks their cause is so right they'll go through anything. I only have one regret — that the military staff and news services don't let us know what's really happening."

George Suakjian, first semester political science major: "Actually, I think that the war must go on. Once it has started, it must continue. You cannot consider it from the point of men getting killed."

"When the war stops, America will decline in world position and business. It's definitely worth it."

"From the standpoint of humanity it should stop, but this is the only way to fight Communism and protect Christianity."

Diane Grijalva, first semester business major: "I feel that we have a right to be there. Sure, the United States is accused of butting into other nation's problems, but if we didn't butt in it would probably be a lot worse. In the long run, it pays."

Genevieve Small, first semester liberal arts major: "I hate the whole thing. I hate the idea of war itself. It's hard to say whether we should stay or not."

"There are advantages and disadvantages to either staying or leaving. Lives are at stake if we stay, but then indirectly our country is at stake if we leave."

Raul Pickett, first semester pre-law major: "It should be declared a war. Since it's not a declared war, youth doesn't find any principle in the situation. There is no loyalty."

"If it were an all-out war there might be more of a sense of unity. War is unavoidable. You have two different forms of life that are struggling to survive: Communism and Democracy."

"They have to clash at some time or another so why should the United States wait around for Communism to come here and try to take over? Communism appeals to poor countries because it represents equality, but the strong sense of competition in the U.S. would not allow for the successful infiltration of Communism."

Jane Hill, third semester social welfare major: "I think we should stay there because if we got out we'd lose our world position in relation to politics. The United States has proven to be on top in the past, and if we got out we might not be on top anymore."

"It would be impossible for us to regain our position. I do regret the lives being lost, but in a war, there's not much you can do about it."

Carol Pendergrass, first semester business major, "I feel our help is needed in Viet Nam, but our troops should be assisting the Vietnamese, not fighting the battle for them."

"The ratio of Vietnamese soldiers killed to Americans has been decreasing each year."

Assembly Committee
Slates Noon Lectures

A series of lectures, sponsored entirely by student body funds, will be presented to the FCC students and faculty in the Gymnasium, beginning Oct. 27 at noon.

"The speakers for the assemblies were chosen from a wide range of sources, hoping to interest a large cross-section of the college students," Miss Doris Deakins, head of the assembly committee, said. "The slate includes such personalities as trial lawyer Melvin M. Belli and actor Michael Kermoyan."

The first speaker will be Dr. Lester A. Kirkendall, professor of family life education at Oregon State University and founder of the Sex Education and Information Council of the United States.

Versatile Actor

Kermoyan will succeed Kirkendall Nov. 10. A performer in opera, musical comedy and Shakespearean productions, Kermoyan has also appeared in stage productions of Lawrence of Arabia, A View From the Bridge and Camelot.

Other credits include television productions such as the Hallmark Playhouse, the series Trials of O'Brien and the Tonight Show.

Kermoyan will be followed by Belli, who will speak Dec. 1. A senior partner in the firm of Belli, Gerry, Ellison and Cone, Belli's practice, lectures and writings take him to all continents.

Ruby Defendant

James R. Stewart will speak Feb. 16. Stewart is with Scripps Institution of Oceanography, University of Southern California, San Diego. His scientific experiences in diving include biological surveys, analyses of pollution effects and extensive use of underwater photography and instrumentation development.

The last speaker scheduled in the lecture series is author Saul Bellow. Bellow, whose books have been best-sellers, will speak Mar. 28.

All talks will be held in the Gymnasium. A discussion period will follow each talk. Student body card holders will be admitted free.

School Schedules

The scheduled hours of FCC facilities are as follows: The cafeteria will be open from 11 AM to 1:30 PM and from 5 to 9:30 PM. The Coffee Shop is open from 7 AM to 3:30 PM.

The Bookstore is open Monday through Friday from 7:45 to 3:45 and 6:45 to 8:45 Monday through Thursday.

The Library will remain open from 8 AM to 5 PM Monday through Friday and from 6:30 to 9:30 Monday through Thursday.

Beckhoff Jumps For FCC Spirit

A 20-year-old sophomore who wants to see "pride and a lot of spirit at FCC" has been chosen as this year's Ram mascot.

Diana Beckhoff, a five-foot, two-inch Kerman coed, volunteered for the job and was notified of her appointment by Mrs. George Wiedenhoefer, a Rally Club sponsor.

A former mascot at Kerman Union High School, Miss Beckhoff described her duties as "jumping around and getting people to cheer at the games."

Her outfit is similar to the one she used in high school.

Miss Beckhoff was Associated Women Students' president last semester. She also won the runner-up spot in last fall's Kerman Harvest Queen Festival contest.

Student Insurance Aids Health Bills

How many students whittle away $12 a semester on unimportant items?

Mrs. Margaret N. McBride, the college nurse, said this money could be used to buy an important health insurance plan for students who are not covered by insurance.

Most college students, Mrs. McBride said, are learning how to take care of themselves and to assume responsibilities, such as living alone and having jobs. They overlook a significant item like health insurance, however.

This year a little more than 400 students have purchased the insurance. Mrs. McBride believes the general attitude among FCC students seems to be that "only other people get sick, not me." The enrollment deadline is Oct. 10.

Many FCC students have found the insurance offered through the college useful for over five years. The claim form is brief and must be mailed within 20 days of the accident or illness.

$12 Per Semester

The cost for a college semester is $12, a college year is $24, and a full year is $30. The student is covered on and off the campus for 24 hours.

The plan covers major hospital expenses, surgical benefits, emergency outpatient costs, medical expenses, consultation fees, ambulance service rates, dental treatments and provides up to $1,000.

Mrs. McBride also stated that every new FCC student has received a brochure and letter from the dean of instruction telling about the insurance.

The only opportunity for the students to get this insurance after Oct. 10 will be at the beginning of the spring semester, she said.

Those interested should contact the Health Center in Administration 136 or the counseling center in Administration 118.

Ramburger Roundup Tomorrow Gathers Membership For Clubs

By JESSE CHAMBERS

"Come and get it!" is the cry which will go up at 5 PM tomorrow as the tenth annual Ramburger Roundup gets underway.

The Roundup will be the first chance campus organizations will have to offer membership to incoming students as well as those returning.

Plans are already being made by many of the clubs for booths which will serve a double purpose, as information posts and as the boundary connecting the southern ends of McLane Hall and the Administration Building.

An award will be given to the club who has given the most time to over-all construction, originality and general participation to their booth.

This was the announcement made at the get-acquainted meeting of the Inter-Club Council Sept. 21.

Judy Kramer, booth chairman for the event, said that the judging panel will consist of three faculty members and four students.

Jim Shaver, ICC president, reminded all participating clubs that they are responsible for the booths they construct and also for any loose trash that might be located at their positions.

Recreation Night Offers Sport, Fun

Weightlifting, badminton, ping-pong, basketball and gymnastics are some of the indoor sports offered on Recreation Night every Monday from 7-9 in the Gymnasium.

"You can even dance," stated Chuck Brietigam, student body president, "providing you bring your own radio."

The dress is casual attire, and tennis shoes should be worn to protect the Gymnasium floors. He said the whole student body is welcome to attend. Equipment is available at the Gymnasium.

Recreation Night will continue throughout the year except during finals. Brietigam said the purpose is just for students to have fun with their friends.

Recreation Night was started last year at the students' request.

"It was so successful we decided to continue it this year," Hans Wiedenhoefer, athletic director, stated.

John Martin, student commissioner of athletics, will be present Monday night to accept suggestions and answer questions.

Work on the booths may start no sooner than noon tomorrow, and must be completed by 5 PM.

Plans were also discussed at the ICC meeting for the 1967 Homecoming queen contest, parade and dance. The events are slated for Oct. 18, 19 and 20.

Miss Doris Deakins, ICC adviser, said there are three new groups which will attempt to form on campus. They are a political 'peace' organization, a ham radio club and the Technical Industrial Education Club, which will be known as TIE.

Rally Club

Tony Spears is the new president of the Rally Club. Spears, who is also serving as a cheerleader, is a transfer student from the Bay Area.

He received cheer leading experience while attending school there.

Other officers for the club are Steve Gross, vice president; Judy Rix, secretary; and Floyd Mahon, ICC representative.

Circle K

Members of Circle K, the men's community service organization, will attend a divisional meeting Sunday, in Visalia.

A feature of the gathering will be a barbecue dinner at Mooney's Grove Park.

Instructor Staff Increases By 11

Ten new instructors and one returning staff member joined 192 full-time faculty members.

Geography and history instructor David H. Hendrickson returned to the FCC campus after a year as a Fulbright-Hays exchange teacher at the Hulme School in Manchester, England.

The new instructors include eight replacements for instructors who have resigned, retired or taken leaves of absence and three additions to the present staff.

Stephen J. Barnhart from San Diego State College will teach biology. He replaces Mrs. Dorothy Naman, who is taking a leave of absence to work on her doctorate at the University of California at Los Angeles.

English instructor Robert Blanchard will replace Erwin Ginsburg, who retired last June.

Richard L. Ettner of Fresno will teach drafting. He succeeds Richard Handley, who has accepted a position with the State Department of Education at Shasta College for the 1967-68 school year.

Mrs. Mary E. Graham will replace Miss Myrna Harrison, English instructor, while Thomas J. McKenna takes over in business and accounting.

Miss Fay Sullivan, FCC English instructor, will be replaced by James R. Ruston.

Terry Scambray will join the English department, and William F. Scott will teach geography.

John Stokle, a graduate student, accepted the post of instructor in physical science and geography, and home economics instructor Barbara Thompson is a replacement for Mrs. Norma Carpenter.

Dean's List Names 457 FCC Scholars

Merle M. Martin, dean of students, said 457 students made the dean's list for the 1967 spring semester. Included in the list are 19 students who maintained a straight A average (4.0).

Students who received straight A's are Robert D. Bos, James Paul Fletcher, Al C. Guillems, Mary G. Guillems, Tomme Pauline Hobbs, Judith A. Jones, George E. Kimball, Janice L. Klemm, Frank Kong, Gary Avon Lambert, Lorraine M. Mahle and John Allen Matoian.

Other students include Marilyn A. McClain, Richard W. Nelson, Betty Joan Smith, Connie P. Trevino, Judith L. Van Gundy, Louise H. Vartanian and Sara Ann Young.

Footballers To Host Washington College

By JIM MELIKIAN

Fresno City College will start a new interstate grid series by playing Spokane, Wash., Community College tomorrow in Ratcliffe Stadium. The kick-off will be at 8 PM.

Larry Kavanaugh, FCC Public Information Officer, said the game will not be broadcast due to a scheduling conflict.

This will mark the first time that the two schools have met, and Ram Coach Clare Slaughter is worried.

"I don't know anything about their squad," he said. "This is the first year they have played football. I hear they have recruited boys all the way from Pennsylvania."

Mossman Injured

Bob Mossman was injured at his offensive tackle position. He will be replaced by either Mike Wood or Gary Simmons.

Fred Moore and David Viette will compete for the quick guard position, while Rayce Lucas and Ken Mayo are fighting to be the offensive center. Gary Hixson, Lonnie Powell and Carlos Laney are nominees for the near slot back position.

The Rams were defeated last week by the Bakersfield College Renegades 37-6 before 12,711 fans in Bakersfield. BC was leading at half time, 14-0.

One of the bright spots for FCC was the passing of quarterback Ron Olson and the receiving of end Steve Natsues. This duo accounted for FCC's only score that night.

'New' Pasture For Rams

John M. Euless Stadium To Be Rebuilt This Winter

By PAUL SMITH

The FCC baseball team will have a new ball park in an old sports arena starting this spring. It is the 26-year-old John M. Euless stadium which the Rams and the Fresno Giants professional baseball team play their home games.

Stuart M. White, superintendent of the State Center Junior College District, said the rehabilitation is to include a complete rebuilding with the exception of the fence, lighting, foundation and girders.

Waterproof Seats

"A waterproofing plastic will seal the new bleachers and grandstand seats," White said, "forming a single membrane."

Garland Peed, an assistant superintendent of business, said the cost of construction will be $80,000, with an additional $10,000 to be added for automatic fire extinguishers.

"The SCJCD appropriated $45,000," Peed said, "with the city of Fresno and the Fresno Greater Youth Foundation donating $30,000 and $15,000 respectively."

New Facilities

Baseball Coach Len Bourdet said the new facilities the teams will use are locker rooms and a shower and dressing area plus offices for the coaches and additional storage areas.

"These additions will be valuable to the players," Bourdet said, "because in the past we have had to either dress in the locker room in FCC's Gymnasium or rent a dressing room at Ratcliffe."

The rehabilitation will begin as soon as final plans are approved by the State Office of Architecture and Construction in Sacramento.

In a report submitted to the SCJCD on the construction and rehabilitation, David H. Horn, chief architect said, the initial construction is thirty years old, part of which has been burned and partially replaced.

"A part of the east and south sides of the park," Horn said, "were constructed at a later date, and are in better condition."

"It is apparent however that little or no maintenance has occurred in the last 7 or 8 years."

"The ball park," Horn said, "besides being used by the Rams and the Giants, may be used by the Fresno Parks and Recreation Department and the Fresno Greater Youth Foundation."

The approximate dimensions of the park after construction will be 18,000 square feet with the grandstand area taking up the largest portion, with 10,000 square feet.

Safety Factor

"This office looks at the construction from the standpoint of safety," Peed said, "and the architect's drawings must meet their specifications."

Under the new plans, the front entrance of the park will be closed, with two new entrances from the first and third base sides of the park.

The existing capacity of 3,050 will be increased by 210 seats behind home plate, and 500 plastic seats, bolted down.

"We are all pushing for a Feb. 1 opening date," White said, "in order to be in time for the opening of the 1968 Ram and Giant season."

New Sport Hits Campus

By RITA JOHNSON

A new athletic event is being introduced at FCC — the rodeo. The rodeo team will not be official, however, until there are 10 to 15 members and an adviser for it.

The team will be in competition with other colleges from California, Nevada and Arizona.

Presently there is only one coach available for the three riding events, bareback, saddle bronc and bull riding. The coach will be Bob Robinson of the Bob Robinson Continuous Rodeo School.

Robinson has been ranked among the top 30 professional saddle bronc and bull riders in the nation for the past 12 years.

He was the Canadian Champion saddle bronc rider in 1956, qualified twice for the national finals in bull riding and won the nationals at Los Angeles in 1962.

The team will be able to practice twice a week for a total cost of $200 per month. Robinson said each team member will ride two head of stock twice a week for $20 apiece.

Robinson said if enough members are interested in roping and steer wrestling, it would be possible to get the required stock and bring in a good instructor.

Anyone interested in joining the team should contact Rita Johnson in Student Center 211.

The Ram cross country team will tangle with all the top teams in the valley tomorrow in Modesto at 4 PM.

Ram Splashers Will Play FSC

Fresno State College's Junior Varsity will host the FCC water polo team in the FSC tank Tuesday, signifying the last of non-league action.

The Ram splashers will open league competition Oct. 6, hosting American River College of Sacramento.

In the Cabrillo Water Polo Tournament Friday in Aptos, FCC won its first match but lost the next two.

Scott Holmes scored 11 goals to lead the Rams to a 21-5 victory over Cabrillo College in the initial match.

In the second match the Rams lost 10-5 to San Jose City College.

The third match was somewhat closer, but the Rams ended up second best as the Beavers of American River College beat them 8-6.

In the Beaver game, the Rams trailed 3-1 after the first period and could never catch the victory-eager Beavers.

FCC Coach Bob Fries said, "American River College, the host team, is favored, as in past years."

He also added FCC should place well in some areas.

Standouts

Coach Fries credits Andy Hansen, Bill Camp, Alex Fierros and Larry Putman as standouts in the last meet with Bakersfield College last Saturday in Bakersfield.

He said Putman, a freshman, came up from eighth to fourth place with good poise.

BC won 23-36 (low score wins in cross country), taking seven of the first 10 places.

Four Second Win

Frank Rodriguez of BC nabbed first on the 3.3 mile course, clocking 17:32. Ram Bill Camp was second, only four seconds behind Rodriguez.

FCC's Andy Hansen battled for first all the way but dropped to fourth at the end of the race.
