

Drew Pearson Will Speak In Madera

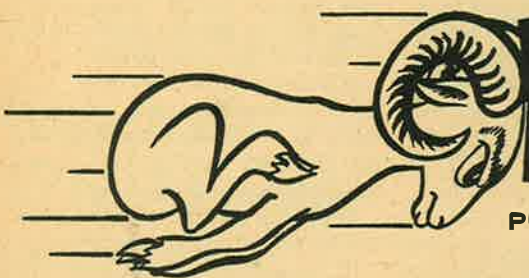

By SHARON CAVIELLO
Drew Pearson, the second speaker in the FCC Sunday Evening Series, will speak on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in Madera Union High School girls' Gymnasium.
Pearson is a nationally syndicated newspaper columnist and radio-television commentator.
The lecture will be free to all residents of the State Center Junior College District. The available 300 seats will be granted to those arriving first.
Relentless
Pearson is known as "the man in the know in Washington" and strives to get the inside story on the Washington scene. This has caused him to be both feared and admired by government officials, members of Congress and important business leaders.

In his concern for the public interest, he has criticized and fought public officials and has proven right in many instances.
Khrushchev
Two important events of his journalistic career were exclusive interviews with Nikita Khrushchev and Marshall Tito.

In 1926 Pearson was a staff member of the United States Daily. Later he wrote for the Baltimore Sun. His first book, "Washington Merry-Go-Round," published in 1931, caused much controversy in the capital. Currently he writes a daily newspaper column of the same name.
Other books he has written are, "The American Diplomatic Game," "The Nine Old Men" and "USA — Second Class Power?"
Broadcast
Pearson started a daily radio broadcast in 1935 and has made in depth studies of Alaska and Israel on television. He also edits a weekly business newspaper, Personal from Pearson.

Among the awards he has received are the Knights of Columbus International Gold Medal, the French Legion of Honor, the First Order Star of Solidarity (Italy) and two honorary doctorates.
He has also been honored by journalistic and governmental groups. The Friendship Train during World War II was Pearson's creation and has been hailed by the press as "one of the greatest projects ever born of American journalism."

Community Service
The SCJCD sponsors the Sunday Evening Series and hopes to eventually bring the community service function to other parts of the district.
"We appreciate the opportunity to serve the people of the area," Ted Locker, series director, said, "and we hope Pearson's appearance will be the beginning of a series of such events in different areas of the district."

Edwards Protests

Former FCC Track Star Leads San Jose Negroes

By PAUL SMITH
Harry Edwards, a former FCC student and star athlete during the 1960 track and field competition, staged a protest rally against alleged racial discrimination at the San Jose State College campus.
Edwards still holds the FCC discus record with a toss of 171 feet, eight inches, which was set during the West Coast Relays of May 14, 1960. He said he has too many other interests now at hand to pay much attention to the discus.
Currently Edwards is a second year sociology and anthropology instructor with a doctor of philosophy degree from Cornell University and a bachelor of arts from SJSC.
Against Discrimination
He is also the head of the United Black Students for Action, which is campaigning against what they consider to be racial discrimination in campus housing, athletics, fraternities and sororities.

"The discrimination goes on all over the world," Edwards said in an interview with this Rampage staff member, "in these areas, and everyone is aware of it, but some shut it out quite nicely, which is the rot of our damned society."
Victor Lee, associated student body president of SJSC, said there were guidelines set up by a joint committee of the Inter Fraternity Council and the San Jose Alumni Council to promote mutual understanding of the minority groups and students attending SJSC.
They are:
Goals
1. To protect the rights of every student at San Jose and establish a public relations adviser, an ombudsman, to carry out a program for those students who feel they are being discriminated against. The fraternities will hold a rush for new members.

2. To set up a human relations committee to develop a basic understanding among the minority groups of the campus.
3. To hold an ad hoc meeting of IFC judiciary members who will review all cases of discrimination found in fraternity.
"If this is the case," Lee said, "the house members of the fraternity will face parole, expulsion or suspension from the IFC."
Ombudsman
The ombudsman is a new title conferred this year by Dr. Robert Clark, president of the college, upon Jay Benton White, who is a minister on the campus.
Dr. Clark said he submitted a very persuasive report to a board of trustees director, Fred Ness, in San Luis Obispo, discussing this problem.
Another report submitted to the IFC, which was to be released today, notes the decisions submitted by the officers of the council concerning the alleged discrimination.
Who Cares
Edwards said he could not tell what the decisions would be and that he really did not care.
"Freedom must be obtained by whatever means necessary," he

Eckenrod Announces Computer Night Class

A new night course called computer programming for business will be open to FCC students in the spring semester.
Gervase A. Eckenrod, dean of the business division, said the class, which will be limited to 20 students for the first semester, will be expanded next year to accommodate more students.
The new computer center is currently being built from three classrooms, Administration 156, 158 and 160. These rooms are being resectioned and the walls removed.
Lecture Room
Administration 156 will be a lecture room. Next to it, housed behind a glass partition, will be the unit recording equipment which consists of an accounting machine, a collator, a reproducer, a sorter and a key punch.
The third section will be the home of the new Honeywell 300 computer, a tape library and other offices.

Eckenrod said the computer center will serve a two-fold purpose. It will be used as an instructional facility and also take care of FCC's data processing. In past years FCC had to take its computer work to Reedley College for processing.
Joseph Safer
Joseph Safer, a business instructor at FCC, will teach the new course. Safer taught the same course at Fresno State College.
Howard Kane has been hired to manage the office and the computer.
Originally the new center was to be completed by Thanksgiving of this year, but due to structural problems in the building the completion has been extended.
Eckenrod said the total cost of the operation is impossible to estimate at this time. He said, however, the computer alone will be leased at $3500 per month.

Administration Posts Drop Slip Deadline

The last day to drop classes is Nov. 10.
Students who do not follow the formal procedure will receive WF's.
Joe Kelly, dean of admissions and records, said to withdraw, students must first secure withdrawal forms from the Admissions Office.

The student must next complete the form and obtain his counselor's signature.
The withdrawal slip should be returned to the admissions office, and the student will be dropped from his class.

Prevent Entrance
"Failure to comply with these regulations may result in the student's grades being recorded as WF and may prevent the student from entering another institution of higher learning," Kelly said.
When a student withdraws within the first nine weeks with a C or better he will receive a W or withdrawal.
If a student wishes to drop after the first nine weeks, and his grades are below average, he will receive a WF or withdrawal and failure.

Drop Out
If a student wishes to drop out of school, he must obtain the required form, which is available in the Admissions Office.
The student has three days to complete the process without penalty. The student will receive a grade of WF for all classes if the form is not successfully completed.

Groups Sponsor GI Blood Drive

A blood drive for the Veterans Administration Hospital will be held Nov. 9 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Student Lounge.
The drive will be sponsored by the Inter Club Council and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Local Post 884.
Hospital administrators asked that all donors be in good physical condition and especially that they have no contagious diseases.
Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women, said persons under 21 must have a parental consent slip. Forms are available in Miss Deakins' office, Administration 128.
VA Post 884 will award trophies to the campus club that has the most volunteers and to the club that has the highest percentage of member participation.

Student Council Plans Drug Poll

"Should marijuana be legal?" is one of the questions which will be asked by the Student Council in an opinion poll about the drug Nov. 9.
Rick Patton, a Council representative, said this poll is a result of college campuses' involvement with the marijuana problem since May.
Students will also be asked if they have ever smoked pot and if they feel laws concerning it are too strict.
The poll will be held on the lawn between the Administration Building and McLane Hall from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Committee Plans Survey On City Recreation Needs

Members of FCC's Mayor's Committee will hold a survey on recreation centers.
"Questionnaires will be distributed on campus," stated Ed Reid, committee chairman. "This poll will attempt to find the needs and desires of students regarding recreation centers."
The Mayor's Committee was formed at the request of Fresno District Attorney William Daly. Committee members are Student Council officers Ken Bundy, Max Rogers, Jim Badger, Terry Starr, Rose Attoian, Judy Kramer and Ed Reid.

The committee will meet today to discuss the project. Student Council members Chuck Brietigam, Reid, Harold Ruby and Rogers will confer with the Mayor's Council when all the information has been compiled.
FCC is working with other schools and local service groups.

Minority Seeks Representation

It's a known fact that the racial minorities have had difficulties. No doubt, what is needed is a significant or radical change that can bring decency to their lives from the smallest to the highest level in government, education, housing, welfare, labor and health.

One of the Negroes' answers here on campus is a newly formed organization. It is an attempt or tool by which the Negro can voice his needs.

Jim Edwards, president of the United Negro Student Association, is one of few students who not only knows the Negroes' needs and their wants, but is willing to go beyond mere talk to achieve their goals.

The UNSA came into existence three weeks ago with the basic purpose of keeping the Negro in school and establishing Negro participation in every aspect of college life.

In short, it hopes to be a force that can improve and uplift the Negro.

An eloquent speaker, Edwards expressed displeasure when he cited the 300 Negroes enrolled and their lack of representation in Student Council.

"How is the council going to represent us when there are no Negroes in the council?" he asked.

"If we can't change our own government here, how do we expect to get the Negro in civic and national government?"

"This is an FCC based group that came about because the Negro isn't satisfied with the existing conditions. Everybody knows the Negroes' problems, but what real attempts have been made to improve them?"

He said that the Negroes have the power to assert themselves and know their worth. With this realization he believes that they're going to make an attempt to change the image of the Negro and only then better themselves.

Edwards made the distinction between the College Community Council and UNSA. The council serves the community in civic affairs whereas UNSA works independently at FCC.

Although recently formed, UNSA has made an impressive start. UNSA's Homecoming queen candidate, Rosemary Glover, was fourth runnerup.

Other officers in the organization are Don Williams, vice president; Murial Sykes, secretary and Inter Club Council representative; Elroy Thoma, treasurer; and Mike Richardson, sergeant at arms.

Legal Issues Arise In FCC Opinion Poll

In relation to the poll being taken today on the use of marijuana, the Rampage feels that in order to give an informed opinion on the subject the student should have a general knowledge of the legal penalties concerning the drug.

According to an agent of the narcotics bureau in Fresno, it is illegal, under California law, to possess marijuana. The punishment for a first-time offender is one to 10 years imprisonment in a state penitentiary, or extended time served in a county jail or probation.

Punishment for secondary offenders would depend on previous arrests.

A fact relevant to the question of legalization of marijuana is that although the drug is not physically addictive, it can become mentally habit-forming and may be used as a stepping stone to the use of other, more serious narcotics.

Newman Lecturer

R. Haughton Claims Life Can't Bring Complete Happiness, Love

"Complete happiness and complete love can never be achieved in this life."

This statement was made by Mrs. Rosemary Haughton, English lecturer and authoress, who spoke on "The Theology of Sex and Marriage" Oct. 25 as a part of the Newman Center Speakers Forum.

Mrs. Haughton said that there are some moments in every person's life which seem more real than others. She gave examples of sharing an experience or discovery with another or encountering moments of danger when one becomes conscious of the hazards of human life.

Break Through Life

The events break through the normal awareness of life, which makes them seem more real, she said.

"People cannot bear to let go of a happy experience," Mrs. Haughton said. "That is why when people go on a holiday, they take scads of pictures; it is an attempt to keep a happy experience over present."

"We become disillusioned when we try to make an unusual experience part of the norm. We need an organized life to give us security and confidence."

Shock Treatment

Mrs. Haughton believes that the whole idea of a "happening" is an attempt to shock the feeling of security out of people and make them aware of reality.

"In each of us there is a part which is isolated, a part we don't understand," she said, "and due to ignorance we grow afraid of others and even ourselves. This makes us suspicious, and suspicion grows into hate and prejudice."

Mrs. Haughton also believes that falling in love is a sign of liberation from this state of isolation and that sex is the most intimate possible knowledge between two beings.

Sex Is Self-Giving

"Sex is the union that abolishes all barriers, physically and psychologically, a total sharing and a total self-giving," she said.

"Love is not an emotion; it is a knowledge, life or truth. Its nature is to grow and break down barriers. If it doesn't, it dies."

Other speakers for the Newman Center Speakers Forum will include Dr. Thomas Nelady, and Father Edward Flannery.

Author and lecturer Nelady will speak on African affairs Nov. 15.

Physiograph Figures In Lab Experiments

By LORETTA CARR

The sacrifices a lab assistant has to make!

Gary Phelps, first semester nursing major, knows the many tribulations. He is the lab assistant to Mel Peterson, FCC physics instructor.

It is his duty to submit his body to the torturous experiments befitting a guinea pig. His body functions are recorded by a very delicate measuring device known as a physiograph. The $5,000 machine measures respiration, blood pressure and pulse.

Measures Breathing

During a demonstration of the machine, respiration was measured during normal breathing, sighing, hiccupping, heavy breathing and strenuous exercise.

There was some interference recorded from the pulse measuring needle. This could have been due to the fact that nine of the ten people at the demonstration were women.

The physiograph, which was obtained through district funds and money from the National Defense Education Act, is used for various physiology major courses ranging from nursing, biology and pharmacy to physical education.

Detects Irregularities

The machine is capable of detecting irregularities in heart-beat and breathing patterns. It can record many responses at one time, thus showing the relationship between various body functions.

The final components to the device just recently arrived, although the physiograph has been at FCC for several months.

"We're still in the experimentation stage trying to find out what is capable of being discovered," Peterson said.

When he was asked about his role in the experiments, Phelps took his job in stride: "It's pretty interesting. I worked with these machines in the Air Force and at the county hospital, so I'm familiar with them."

Campus Style

How To End It? Students Advise Open Discussion

By ANDREA FISH

What is the best way to end a romance?

This disturbing and somewhat emotionally triggered subject was the topic of discussion around campus this week.

Mimo Reitz, a first semester sociology major said, "I think the best way to handle the situation is to talk about it, discuss it and then tell him to get lost."

"Above all other people should mind their own business."

Be Truthful

Gary Joseph, a first semester business major, said, "If you're truthful, it should be easy. Both people would know that it's coming. In any case be sure of your feelings."

Irene Vasquez, third semester liberal arts major, said, "You have to be truthful about it. Tell the other person exactly how you feel. It would be better to risk a love-relationship than to carry it on without knowing your true feelings."

Richard Helms, a first semester science major, said, "The best possible way is to send the girl flowers in the morning, candy in the afternoon, take her out to some nice place that evening and then casually tell her you think you want to stop dating."

Know Reasons

Chuck Brietigam, student body president, said, "It's hard to end something like that because it's so personal. I believe that to know why the relationship is deteriorating is important."

"Just because you have doubts, that isn't enough. Two people still have to know how to talk."

Instructor To Exhibit Art Work

Kent Steadman, an FCC art instructor, will be displaying a one-man art exhibit beginning Sunday at the L'Entrepreneur Gallery at 1461-F North Van Ness Ave.

When asked what he hoped to achieve, Steadman said, "This art show will give me the opportunity to view the impressions and observations of the public. It's a formal way of saying 'there it is.' It is also a plateau from which to launch my next attack."

Steadman also maintains that art instructors have a responsibility to their students by allowing them to observe the nature of their teachers' abilities.

Steadman feels his style leans toward the "moderate approach."

"I feel that meaningful art is basically developed out of personal exploration," he said.

The reception for Steadman's work will be Sunday from 4 to 8 p.m. The exhibit will continue through Nov. 31.

Eckenrod Attends 3 Day Conference

The FCC Business Division literally "lost its head" yesterday. Dean Gervase A. Eckenrod went to Minneapolis to attend a three-day conference of Delta Pi Epsilon, the national graduate business fraternity.

Eckenrod is the national council representative of the local Alpha Rho chapter, based at Fresno State College, of which he was charter president.

Eckenrod said the purpose of the meeting will be mainly to conduct business and listen to report findings. The fraternity has received several extensive national grants for research in business education.

New Ideas

"The reports will present new ideas and techniques in teaching," he said. "The information will apply not only to the chapter, but also to the programs at FCC."

One focal point of the meeting will be an in depth report on Detroit's Senior Intensified Program.

"The purpose of the SIP program is to get high school seniors out of the classroom and into jobs for extra experience in business fields," Eckenrod said.

Radical Measure

He added that this was a "pretty radical" but worthwhile measure.

Eckenrod was selected to attend the meeting by his fellow fraternity members. Those who belong to the Delta Pi Epsilon fraternity all hold master degrees in business education.

'Checkmate' Cries New Chess Club

Checkmate will be the cry raised as the newly-organized Chess Club gets moving.

The club is being organized by Student Body President Chuck Brietigam and sophomore student Vernon Clark. Advisers are Phil Smith, a journalism instructor, and Mel Peterson, a physics instructor.

"A chess club was attempted last year," Smith said, "but not enough students were interested."

The club may be matched with San Joaquin Delta College of Stockton, Reedley College, College

'Minstrels' Will Appear In Fresno

The New Christy Minstrels will appear at the Fresno Convention Center Theater Nov. 18 for FCC students.

"Tickets will be free with an FCC student body card," Chuck Brietigam, student body president, said. "If there is room after FCC students are in, visitors will be charged admission."

The time of the concert has not yet been announced.

$1,500 For Concert

The Student Council appropriated $1,500 Tuesday towards the concert.

In other action, the council appropriated $411 for carpeting and $405 for cocktail tables for the Student Lounge.

"Because the letters for the marque in front of the Gymnasium were either lost or stolen," Brietigam said, "$125 will go towards some new ones."

Representatives

The council selected Rick Patton, Ed Reid, Ken Bundy, Jim Shaver and Brietigam to represent FCC at the California Junior College Student Government Association in Asilomar Nov. 29 to Dec. 2.

Max Rogers was appointed to the new post of parliamentarian by Brietigam.

The faults and merits of the Homecoming activities was also discussed by the council. Suggestions were made on how to improve it next year.

ACT Deadline Set For Nov. 8

The deadline to register for the American College Test is Wednesday.

Students planning to attend FCC in the spring and fall semester of 1968 must take the test, Eric Rasmussen, FCC counselor, said.

Further information may be obtained in Administration 118.

College Lacks 'Strings' For Orchestra Participation

By LINDA LUCCHESI

"It would be fabulous for FCC to have an orchestra," said Alex Molnar, "but we cannot build one without string players."

Molnar, a music instructor, said it was a mystery to him that among 6,000 students at FCC he could not have enough in his string class to build an orchestra. At the present time there are four students and one faculty member.

Dr. Gilbert Peart, in his class

The string group would consist of violins, violas, cellos and basses.. The class meets every Tues-of the Sequoias in Visalla and Coalinga College.

Students who have signed up for the club include Brietigam, Jim Blocker, Vernon Clark, Jeny D. Endsley, Don Evans, David P. Fanning, Lowell E. Fox, Robert Gill, Don Warrick and Frank Kong.

Other students are Bobby Novak, Richard Ruby, Louis Salgado, Jack Spann, Connie Spomer, Thomas Stringfield, John Johnson and Louan Tarquino.

"In the next meeting of the club plans for a tournament will be discussed," Smith said.

The next club meeting is on Nov. 13 at 3 p.m. in Student Center 229.

Group Adopts JC Resolutions

The California Junior College Association has adopted two resolutions concerning tuition and policy.

At the annual fall conference of the association last week, junior college administrators passed a resolution supporting no tuition for California students attending California junior colleges.

A companion resolution that was approved reaffirmed the association's stand on the present open door policy. Traditionally, junior colleges have admitted high school graduates and adults who will profit from the instruction.

Administrators attending from FCC were Clyde McCully, college president; Robert Kelly, dean of instruction; Merle Martin, dean of students; and Loren Gaither, Faculty Club president.

Naval Reserve

A Navy Air Reserve Recruiting team will be on campus Wednesday to explain naval officer training programs.

A test will also be given to determine whether or not students are eligible for the Reserve program. Students must be between 17 and 27½ and have a 2.0 grade point average in order to take the test.

The information center will be set up in the foyer of the Cafeteria.

Fresno City College Rams To Play Modesto Panthers

By JAMES MELIKIAN

The Fresno City College Rams will travel Saturday to play the Sacramento City College Panthers. Kick-off is slated for 8 p.m.

SCC boasts a record of five wins, one loss and one tie. The loss occurred last week in a thrilling 35-32 defeat by the College of Sequoias.

The Panthers are currently in second place in the Valley Conference behind American River College. FCC is third.

"SCC is very fast and quick," FCC Coach Clare Slaughter said. "They have two outstanding half-backs in Jim Jurkovich and Tom Allen."

Standouts

Other standouts for the Panthers are quarterback Verble Walder and receiver, Ted Fitzpatrick, an all-conference split end last year.

FCC and Modesto Junior College played to a 14-14 tie Saturday.

The Rams scored first, following a bad punt by the Pirates. FCC got the ball on the Modesto 13 yard line. Five plays later quarterback Ron Olson bolted over from the one. Don Burdick's kick was good and the Rams commanded a 7-0 lead.

Offensive Machine

FCC gets its offensive machine moving in the second period, rolling 77 yards to the Pirate 18 before giving up the ball on a fumble. Near half time another fumble prevented a possible Ram TD.

The Rams had slippery fingers all night as they fumbled four times.

"The fumbles killed us," Coach Slaughter admits.

Score in Third

The Rams scored the last time in the third quarter on a five yard run by fullback John Figueroa. Figueroa did most of the ball packing on the scoring drive.

The Pirates hit the scoreboard in the third period. Quarterback Dennis Davenport tossed a 31-yard bomb to end Mike Fantazia. Denny Lane's kick was good and the score was 14-7.

Davenport and Fantazia teamed up again in the fourth quarter for a 19 yard aerial score. Denny Lane's all important conversion was good, and that was the way it ended.

Suffers Injuries

Coach Slaughter reported half-back Willie Cox suffered a slight head concussion on the second play of the game. He also said that quarterback Olson injured his knee on the last play of the game. Both should be ready to play in Saturday's game.

In individual statistics for seven games in which the Ram football team has participated, a total of 124 points has been scored by FCC, and 120 by their opponents.

The average rushing and passing offense for the Rams has been 165.1 and 145.7 respectively.

The defensive squad has racked up 101.2 yards in rushing and in passing 99.5 yards for seven games.

Swimmers To Meet MJC, Delta At Home

The FCC water polo team will have an active weekend when they face Modesto City College tomorrow at 4 p.m. and San Joaquin Delta College of Sacramento Saturday at 10:30 a.m. Both contests will be in the FCC pool.

"The squad is really starting to come alive," said Ram Coach Gene Stephens. "We should give both of these teams a tough time."

Stephens revealed that "the team is set on knocking off Delta (the Valley Conference leader) Saturday."

The Delta Mustangs are undefeated this season with a 15 game win streak.

Delta's Coach Bill Anttalla predicts, "The contest will not be an easy one. Fresno always gives us a bad time in their home pool."

In both contests, Ram watermen will have to withhold the scoring punch of the Pirates' Mel Bower and the Mustangs' John Trvella. Trvella has hit the scoring area 80 times this year.

FCC will play both games without its second leading scorer, Jim Wright. Wright was hurt in a practice session and will be sidelined the remainder of the season. Robin Hostetler will replace Wright in the starting lineup.

Friday FCC beat Sacramento City College 10-5 in Sacramento. The Rams lost to American River College 6-4 Saturday in ARC's pool. FCC is now 3-4 in loop play.

Scott Holmes shot five goals to pace the Rams past SCC. Ernie Coulson ripped two of four scores in the fourth period to ice the contest.

Dave Cross led the Panthers with three markers.

said. "If it is not obtained there will be escalation and then more escalation, and after all efforts have been exhausted, there is going to be one hell of a scene."

Edwards said he has been in 19 colleges in Oregon and California and has never met a solitary Negro student who is not non-violent.

Not Non-Violent

"I am not non-violent," Edwards said, "and if anyone attacks me, I am going to do my best to send him to the cemetery."

Edwards said he has heard of an organization of Negro athletes who have banned together to keep the United States out of the 1968 Mexico Olympics.

"What good is it to run for the United States against a Hitler," he said, "and then be controlled by a Hitler called Johnson?"

Edwards, who has a brother attending FCC, James Edwards, said there would be demonstrations in the future "because the situation is serious and whatever has to be done must be done to help clean up the mess."
