

Shockley Promotes Genetics Discussion

By BILL PEYTON

"My thesis is that racial genetics should be discussed openly instead of kept under cover," Dr. William Shockley told an audience of about 500 at the Mar. 19 Sunday Evening Series.

The Nobel laureate in physics spoke on "City Slums and Research Taboos: A National Sickness Diagnosed."

Dr. Shockley said he has been concerned with the declining quality of the population for two and one-half years and has only recently been involved with racial genetics.

In the past, he has charged the scientific community with ignoring or blocking research into possible genetic make-up of races. Dr. Shockley has been accused, in turn, of fostering racial prejudice.

Desires Research

"I consider myself a stimulator and catalyst desiring objective research and reappraisal into the environment-heredity uncertainty," Dr. Shockley said. "While it exists it leaves prejudices free from attack by facts.

Uncertainty Unfair

"This uncertainty is unfair to all concerned . . . To know the truth requires the ability to doubt and to express contrary opinion."

Dr. Shockley thinks investigation and research on genetic differences is discouraged because "unpalatable" conclusions may be reached.

To critics he has said, "Let's ask the questions, do the necessary research, find the facts, discuss them widely — then either worries will evaporate or plans for action will develop."

Dr. Shockley thinks one crippling effect of our ability to doubt in the face of the desire to believe is the city slum with its Negro ghetto.

Crippling Effect

"Another crippling effect, by no means restricted to Negroes, may be the failure of draftees on the Armed Forces Qualification Tests," he said.

"One in four of our youths lack the developed brain power to pass these mental tests."

An audience member asked Dr. Shockley, "If environmental changes affect intelligence, what is your opinion of the President's commission which recommends a lottery draft deferment? Is it good to interrupt the cultural and scholastic environment of qualified students?"

"One should be able to do something better than lottery operations," Dr. Shockley replied. "In a democracy the question should be decided by votes."

Sixteen American Indians Visit FCC Today For Orientation

Sixteen American Indians will be visiting the FCC campus today from Sierra Joint Union High School.

Larry Martin, assistant dean of the evening division, is in charge of the day's program.

"The reason for this day's activities," Martin said, "is to acquaint the students with the college campus."

'City College Story'

Arriving on campus around 10:45 AM, the students will attend a showing of the "City College Story." This is a series of slides depicting life around the campus. The slide show will be in the Board Room of the Library.

Following the slide show, the FCC counselors will conduct a question-answer session.

At 11:45 AM a luncheon will be held for the students.

Speakers

Rod Haron, student body president, Merle Martin, dean of students, and Archie Bradshaw, FCC president, will speak.

Phil Martin, a former FCC student now attending Fresno State College will also speak at the luncheon. He is an American Indian.

Sally Smith, Ken Bundy and Tim Wright from Student Council will also be hosting the students today.

After the luncheon the students will tour the campus guided by four Indian students who currently attend FCC.

Larry Martin said that at the end of this semester five of the 16 students will receive scholarships to attend FCC.

Center Revamp Betters Campus

The revamping of the Student Center has created improvements on the FCC campus.

Paul Starr, dean of special services, said that the project included the painting and renovation of the entire Student Center and the enlargement of the bookstore. The Social Hall was made into the Student Lounge and Student Council chambers.

Revamping of the second floor included the addition of a new Student Activities Coordinator Office in Room 222. New offices were created for the presidents of Associated Women Students and Associated Men Students in Room 204.

Poster Room

A poster room was also added in Room 205.

Miss Doris Deakins, dean of women, said that the poster room is open to all students. She pointed out that the students may use the facilities of the room, but they have to supply their own materials.

Starr said that there is air conditioning throughout the building and that the equipment is ready to operate.

The patio behind the Student Center was remodeled to make it more functional and efficient.

Patio Uses

Miss Deakins said that the patio will be used for dances, barbecues, club parties and whatever social affairs the students would like to hold.

Garland Peed, assistant superintendent of business for the State Center Junior College District, said that the revamping of the Student Center cost approximately $147,650. A cost breakdown for the project includes $26,000 for air conditioning, $9,000 for lath and plaster, $4,700 for painting and $3,275 for the patio remodeling.

Students Receive Business Awards

Marilyn McClain and Jeffery Emrich, FCC students, received $300 each as 1967 winners of the annual Bank of America Junior College Business Award.

Each of the 39 schools participating in the program was represented by two students, one majoring in banking or business administration, the other in the secretarial or clerical field.

Miss McClain is a medical secretary major, and Emrich, a business major.

The winners were selected by members of their school's faculty on the basis of scholarship and participation in extracurricular activities.

The Bank of America Junior College Business Awards program has a threefold purpose: to recognize the opportunities existing in the business world; to emphasize the importance of the business curriculum, and to encourage consideration of business as a career.

Budget To Include Funds For Accepting Applicants

By MARY YOUNG

Governor Ronald Reagan announced last week that he would include in his 1967-68 budget sufficient funds to enable the 18 California state colleges to accept all qualified applicants in the fall of this year.

Dr. Harry Jones said that students who plan to transfer to Fresno State College next year should file their applications and pay their application fees as soon as possible.

Dr. Jones is the associate dean of students in charge of records and admissions at FSC.

Depends On Staff

"We anticipate room if we can hire the teaching staff we need," he said, "but if we are curtailed, we will take the applicants by the date of their applications."

Dr. Jones urged all students who plan to transfer to FSC next year to attend a meeting to be held on the FCC campus.

Erio H. Rasmussen, an FCC counselor, said that this meeting will be Apr. 12 at 1 PM in Mc-Lane 200.

Answer Questions

Dr. Jones and William Pollock, admissions officer at FSC, will talk about FSC and answer any questions that the students may have.

Rasmussen added that students may pick up an application for FSC in the Counseling Center, Administration 118.

The Daily Collegian, FSC newspaper, quoted Dr. Frederic W. Ness, FSC president, as saying that "funds will be available for operating purposes."

Increase Fees

Dr. Ness said that this would come about because of the increase in student fees and a budgetary transfer which would reduce the strain on the workload budget.

The Collegian said, "Application fees will be raised to $10 and the out of state student fee will be increased to $120."

"The regular student material and service fee will be jumped to $90 per year."

In the 1966-67 FSC catalog application fees were $5, and the material and service fee was $38 per semester.

Circle K Gives $50 To Charity

The FCC men's service club, Circle K, donated $50 to the cerebral palsy telethon. The telethon was held March 3 and 4 over KJEO-TV, channel 47 at the Fresno Memorial Auditorium.

The money was raised from a dance sponsored by the club at the Fresno Barn.

The Rampage would like to correct an error featured in the March 16 issue. At that time it was stated that the club had donated $5.

Board Schedules Session For Choosing President

The new president of the Fresno City College may be announced at the Board of Trustees meeting tonight, explained John S. Hansen, assistant superintendent of education for the State Center Junior College District.

Stuart M. White, superintendent of the district, will make his recommendation to the board for their consideration.

The new president will be selected from a slate of four candidates whose names will not be released until after the final selection.

Applications Sent

"Applications were first sent to major colleges and universities on the Pacific coast and then to other institutions specializing in administrative training programs."

Of the 44 persons who applied for the post, 37 were eliminated by a screening committee. The remaining seven were given an oral examination.

White later reduced the applicants to four after reviewing the seven.

Members Include

Members of the screening committee include Williams Reynolds, president of College Senate, Jess

Baker, Faculty Club president, Robert Kelley, dean of the evening college, and summer session.

James Collins, associate dean of mathematics and science; Garland Peed and John S. Hansen, assistant superintendents; and Stuart M. White, superintendent of the district, are the other members.

Organizations Use Facilities

During this year 43 local organizations used FCC facilities.

Paul H. Starr, dean of special services, handles the rent contracts. Rental fees are payable to the State Center Junior College District.

The majority of organizations using these facilities were athletic.

Three local high schools and Fresno State College held basketball games in the Gymnasium. Swim and baseball clubs also used recreational facilities.

Other types of organizations that used the college facilities included social, political, civil, vocational and religious groups.

Apr. 18 Election

Vote For Override Tax Combat College Growth

If you are 21 or older, vote yes; if you are not, urge those you know over 21 to vote yes.

Vote yes on the 28 cent override tax Apr. 18.

The State Center Junior College District suffers from a common ailment, GROWTH. The growth at FCC and Reedley College and the expected growth are making many campus facilities inadequate or obsolete.

Between 1964 and 1966 the enrollment of full-time district students increased one-third. A 1977 projection predicts about 15,574 full-time students, an increase of over 250 per cent from 1964.

The 28 cent tax, which would run for nine years, would be used for construction of college facilities. It would be used to expand both district colleges to accommodate more students. And if passed, it would be used to construct a third campus.

It seems apparent from past school tax and bond elections that the majority of voters do not intend to add to their taxes even to better education.

If education is to keep pace with the rest of society in the continuing race for progress, then the tide must be turned, and the voters must support education; they must support education even if it deflates their pocketbooks.

If you are not 21, you can still do your part; encourage others to vote yes. If you are 21, make your mark where it counts most; vote yes for the 28 cent override tax Apr. 18.

Student Questions Soldier's Philosophy

Dear Editor,

A letter was published in the last issue of this paper that said, in effect, "To hell with rights. All you college kids pick up a rifle, come over here to Viet Nam, and help me fight." If "To hell with rights" is the battle cry, why are we fighting?

Rights are not popular these days, even Dick Tracy is against them. His criminals are dragged kicking and screaming off to prison, shouting that their rights have been violated. We all know that Tracy's enemies are guilty, they don't deserve rights.

One of the things that makes "I demand my rights" a poor choice of words these days is the race rioter who has used this backbone of freedom as a jawbone, smiting his enemy's right to safety in his own home.

The rights to remain silent if you might incriminate yourself, or to speak if you have an unpopular idea, have been used by the enemies of the United States. This use seems to have tainted them, as if a plague were sweeping the first ten amendments to the Constitution. By association, anyone who uses these rights becomes a communist, a criminal, or a beatnik, not worth defending.

Yet, the communist, criminal, or beatnik needs the protection of the Bill of Rights as much as anyone. If we use the methods of these people against them, then we are no better than they.

If "To hell with rights" is the battle cry in Viet Nam, then the riflemen there had better forget what they are doing, and come home. They should come back without their rifles, the right to bear arms is one of the most unpopular at the moment.

Cultural Notes

Lincoln-Douglas Debates Appear Apr. 10 At Center

The Rivalry, a two-act play by Norman Corwin, will be presented at the Fresno Convention Center Theater Apr. 10 at 8:30 PM.

The play concerns the famous Lincoln-Douglas debates which took place prior to the Civil War when both were senatorial candidates.

Television and movie star John Anderson will portray Abraham Lincoln, while Steven Gravers plays the part of Stephen Douglas. Adele Douglas will be played by Adrienne Mardon.

Other cast members are Dorothy Joyal, a former Fresnoan, who portrays the Lady Democrat and Matthew Know as the Republican committeeman.

The Rivalry played at FCC in the Spring of 1966.

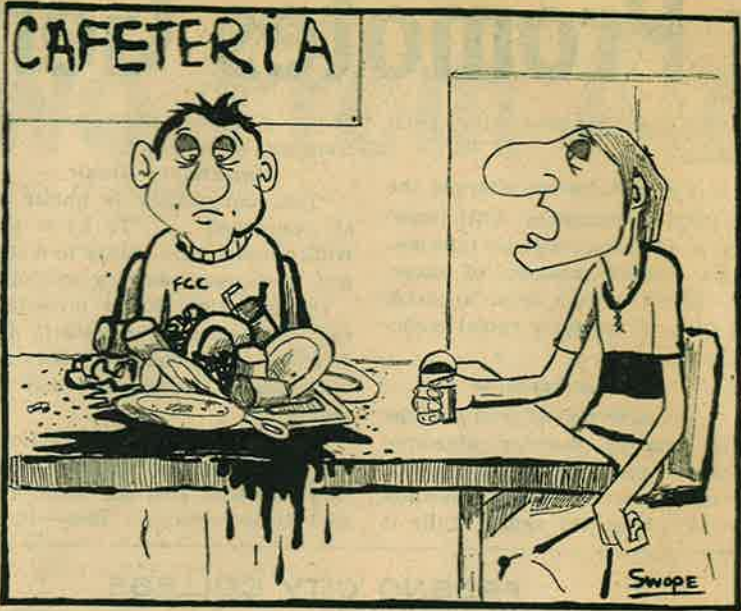

All actors belong to the Player Production Company.

The play is being sponsored by the Fresno Community Theater and the Fresno Philharmonic Orchestra.

Tickets may be purchased at the convention center's box office at 700 M St.

Admission is $1.50 for students and $3 for adults. There will be no reserved seats.

All mail orders must be accompanied with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"It contradicts sterile society, provokes thought, stimulates, protests . . . and quite admittedly nauseates ME."

Students Discuss Cafeteria Status

By MARILYN THRONEBERY

In its last issue the Rampage had an editorial concerning the "mess," caused by students in the Cafeteria and Coffee Shop.

Regular patrons of the Cafeteria were asked their opinions of the conditions that led to the writing of the editorial.

Frederick Wilson, social science major, said, "Up to about 11 AM it's fine, then the big rush between classes start.

"Nobody bothers to take their dishes back — they just pile up at the corners of the table. It almost makes you sick to eat in here after that.

"There should be something done about the people who tear up paper cups. It's pretty disgusting to have to clean up their mess, just to sit down."

Shorty DeLora, forestry major, said, "The bus trays get so over laden, and no one empties them. As long as the Cafeteria is hiring bus boys, they ought to earn their living. Also, you can't find ash trays when you want one."

Mrs. Jan Tracy, music major, said, "Everyone should pick-up after themselves. The rules are just plain common sense."

Gary McDonald, business major: "I think the Cafeteria is poorly managed and understaffed, and the eating area is too small for the number of students. The students are rebelling against being policed, but there should be some type of cooperation between the bus boys and students — mainly in helping them to get the dishes and paraphernalia off the tables and out of sight.

"I recently saw some students at one table start a bonfire of paper cups on their table. These people are extremely juvenile."

After hearing some of the comments about the facilities; Dale Lumsden, Cafeteria manager, remarked, "If students don't want to keep the eating areas clean, we can't push them.

"It's become an increasing problem over the past two years, mainly because of the rise in enrollment. There seems to be no solution.

Lumsden explained that the Coffee Shop is by far the worst, because it is used more. There are more than three times as many customers there as in the Cafeteria.

New people are constantly being hired to keep the facilities clean. Salaries have been increased from $11 per day to $15-$18 per day for bus boys.

Lumsden stated that if conditions change in the Cafeteria and Coffee Shop, so these jobs would not be needed, the cost of meals could go down 10 per cent. If conditions do not change, FCC students will be expected to pay higher prices next year, he said.

Rogers Obtains 1967 Honors

George Rogers, a marketing major, was selected the Merchandising Student of the Year Tuesday evening, in the Library Board Room.

Rogers was selected by a committee of business leaders, including Mrs. Frankie Reynolds, Larry Gaisford, Dick Martin, Charles Hoester and Thurman Johnston.

James Moore, William Munce and Ruban Mendez, also majoring in marketing, were other students competing for the title.

Rogers will compete in the regional Merchandising Student of the Year contest in Sacramento Wednesday.

70 Travel To View Art Shows

Seventy FCC art interested students will infest the Los Angeles area tomorrow to observe first hand what one of the current art centers of the world has to offer.

The Los Angeles trip is the second of two major art excursions sponsored by the art department this year, art instructor Kenneth Owens said. The first trip was to San Francisco during the fall semester.

The agenda for the one day trip includes a stop at the Los Angeles County Museum, where currently an East India art show is being presented. The touring students will also get an opportunity to view some of the works of German artist Paul Klee at the Pasadena Museum of Art.

Owens said that if time allows stops will be made at the UCLA Gallery, Watts Towers and private art galleries.

Students enrolled in art classes were given first chance at the trip. Sign ups for the trip began the week of Mar. 13.

The two buses will depart tomorrow at 6 AM in front of the Administration Building. The expected return time is 11:30 PM.

Owens urges students to bring additional money for the various exhibits which he believes will run from 25 to 50 cents a piece.

New Chess Club Seeks Members

A new club on campus, the FCC Chess Club, being organized by Vernon Clark, lacks only members.

Membership is open to all students who play chess. Information can be obtained in the foyer of the Cafeteria tomorrow between noon and 3 PM.

Clark said that the club preliminaries are near completion and all that remains is a meeting of interested students. The date of the meeting has not been set.

Activities and meeting dates will be discussed and the election of officers will take place at the first meeting. John Peterson, an FCC instructor, will be the club's faculty adviser.

Clark said that the purpose of the club will be "to promote the enjoyment of playing chess and to enter tournaments with other colleges."

Clark can be telephoned at 256-4303 in the evening. The club has five members presently and needs a total of 15 to complete the requirements.

Check Shows New College Lounge Lacks Patronage

By MARSHA MARTIN

Why aren't more students using the new Student Lounge? After spending $11,00 for furnishings and $3,275 for the adjoining patio, the place is nearly empty.

At different time intervals a check was made of the lounge and no more than 10 students could be counted using the lounge at one time.

The Student Lounge is located on the ground floor of the Student Center. It is open from 7:30 AM to 4 PM daily.

Rules Posted

Rules for the lounge were recently posted.

Mrs. Sara Dougherty, student activities coordinator, said that the rules were not set up to restrict the student, but to make the lounge more enjoyable for those who use it.

Recently $198 was appropriated by the Student Council for recreational equipment for the lounge. The equipment would include ping pong tables, card tables, chess and checkers sets and a shuffleboard.

Campus Facility

Campus clubs, the student body, faculty and the administration are entitled to use the lounge.

Outside organizations may also use the lounge, but as of yet none have done so, Mrs. Dougherty said.

Presently, the lounge is being used by the drama department for rehearsal of the Wayward Way, which will be presented Apr. 7 to 9 in the Cafeteria.

New Switchboard Automates Dialing

By JESSE CHAMBERS

FCC has changed from a manual to an automatic dial system for its telephone operations.

"It is something we have needed for a good number of years," Mrs. Floanne Hunter, said, "especially since the college has doubled in growth in my five years of employment."

Mrs. Hunter is also in charge of the lost and found.

Some of the funnier incidents range from a small boy and kitten to shoes and dirty socks, besides a file box full of lost keys.

Bomb Scare

Two bomb scares are listed at the top of her most trying moments.

Mrs. Hunter's duties include operating a private exchange switchboard, giving information to the public, performing routine clerical work and being in charge of the lost and found department.

Mrs. Hunter attended FCC in 1954. The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company later hired her and finally she came back to FCC as a switchboard operator in January of 1962.

"It is an interesting job," said Mrs. Hunter, "you just have to try it to understand it. The new system helps immensely."

SWITCHES BOARDS — Mrs. Floanne Hunter, FCC operator, now supervises an automated telephone switchboard. She is also in charge of lost and found which has included shoes, socks, keys and a lost and found little boy. Marks Photo

Police Fraternity, AWS To Sponsor 'Mod Day'

By KATHY PEARCE

Youth in a changing world. This is the scene on the campus this spring as students enter one mad, mod world after another.

Lambda Alpha Epsilon, an FCC police science fraternity, and the Associated Women Students will prove it is a mod world Apr. 14 when they cosponsor the "Mad Mod Day" on the FCC campus.

The day's activities will begin at 11 AM. The featured events will include a beard contest, a cake sale, a leg contest and a slave sale.

The bearded contestants will be judged for the longest, the most unusual and the neatest beard. The cake sale will be held in the Cafeteria and the patio of the Student Center.

Gams

A 'Gorgeous Gams' contest is also scheduled. There will be two separate contests, one for the female and one for the male students. The judging for all of the contests will be in the Student Lounge.

Students will have an opportunity to buy a "Slave for a Day" at a slave sale scheduled from noon to 4 PM in the Student Lounge. Bids will start at 25 cents. Both men and women students will be sold. (To the highest bidder, of course!)

Mod Clothes

"The attire for the day," said Diana Bechkoff, AWS president, "will be mod clothes, and everyone is invited to participate."

The day's activities will be climaxed by a dance that evening from 9 PM to midnight in the FCC Cafeteria. Music will be provided by The Children.

Admission to the dance will be $1 per couple and 75 cents stag. Punch and cookies will be served free of charge. Tickets will be on sale next week in the foyer of the cafeteria.

Recuperation

Students will have two weeks to recuperate from Mod Day before embarking on the "Western Scene." The annual spring carnival, Apr. 28 will be a "Wild West Day."

Western clothes will be the attire of the day. Clubs will set up booths at various locations on campus.

The AWS will sponsor a dunking tank. However, male students will be used in the tanks. ASB President Rod Haron has already volunteered his "services."

The theme of the ball, not yet selected, will be kept a secret until the night of the affair. A king and queen will be selected to reign over the dance, according to Richard Machado, AMS president.

Phi Beta Lambda To Host Convention

By NELLIE BONILLA

Phi Beta Lambda, a business club, will act as host for their annual state convention at the Del Webb TowneHouse from Apr. 14 to 16.

Various contests will be featured at the convention.

"Winners of the A contests will be eligible to attend the national convention in San Francisco," Rick Kaiser, club president, announced.

The A contests include Mr. and Miss Future Business Executive, Mr. and Miss Future Business Teacher and parliamentary procedure.

The B contests stop at state level. They include extemporaneous speaking, vocabulary relay, typing, shorthand, and accounting.

Rampage Readers Deliver Opinions

What is your opinion of the Rampage? The following students express theirs.

Dan Smith, second semester art major: I don't read it enough to give a fair opinion.

Rod Haron, fifth semester business administration major: It's a big improvement over last semester. In visiting other junior colleges they don't seem to cover school activities as well as we do.

Sharon Brinkley, second semester social science major: It is better than a high school paper, from what I've seen.

Needs Better Coverage

Rene Clendenning, fourth semester drama major: I think it is a lot better than last semester, but better coverage of club activities is needed.

Rod Winkler, third semester police science major: It's a pretty good little paper.

Andrea Nazarroff, second semester business major: It's alright, but there are quite a few mistakes in copy reading.

Ignored

Steve Peterson, first semester physical education major—I don't read it that much, and I know lots of others that ignore it, too.

Betty Glviden, second semester English major: I think it covers the news well, but more advance stories on class news would be good.

Mike Ossola, fourth semester accounting major: It's good, but a bigger sports page and more creative writing would improve it.

Job Applicants' Interview Slated For Early April

Job applicants for permanent and summer work will be interviewed by corporation representatives seeking sales, electronics, drafting and industrial technician majors early next month.

The Student Placement Office said that FCC college students and graduates may qualify for these positions. They may receive applications in Student Center 216.

Two of the corporations represented are non-local; the Hewlett Packard Corporations from Palo Alto, and the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory from Livermore.

Hewlett Packard representatives are scheduled to appear at the Placement Office Apr. 4 from 9 AM to 5 PM and Lawrence Radiation from 9:30 AM to 5 PM.

The Cutco Corporation from Fresno will be at the office Apr. 11 at 2 PM.

Four Girls To Compete In Pageant

By VIVKI OEHLSCHLAEGER

There is a saying that good things come in pairs. This is the case in the Miss Fresno County Pageant.

Good things come in two pairs for Fresno City College. Four coeds competing for the title of Miss Fresno County are from FCC. They are Lorna Hill, Cheryl Wilkins, Jamla Edwards and Sandra Taylor.

Miss Hill, Miss Wilkins and Miss Taylor have chosen dramatic readings for the talent portion of the contest.

Miss Edwards will sing two old standard melodies.

Miss Hill is 19 years old and a fourth semester English major.

On the other hand, Miss Wilkins is a blue-eyed blonde who is 21 years old and five feet nine inches tall. She is in her third semester at FCC and has spent one year at Fresno State College.

Miss Taylor has green eyes and blonde hair. Measuring five feet six inches tall, she is 20 years old and majoring in home economics. This is her fourth semester at FCC.

Miss Edwards, a marketing major, is 18 years old. She is five feet five inches and has blonde hair and blue eyes.

Educators' Club Elects Jack Hill Vice President

Jack Hill, an FCC marketing instructor in the business division, was elected executive vice president of the California Association of Distributive Educators during a convention in Sacramento Mar. 20.

CADE is composed of high school and junior college coordinators and administrators of marketing and distributive education.

The organization serves as a liaison between major business in California and schools offering cooperative work experience programs in marketing.

Rams Take Two From American

By ED HUGHES

The Rams will host Sacramento City College in baseball action Saturday at John Eulless Park. Game time for the league double-header is 12:30 PM.

The Rams will attempt to take over first place in the SCC action. College of Sequoias now heads the Valley Conference pack with a 3-1 mark. FCC shares a 2-2 position with three other schools in the league.

Tuesday the Rams will invade COS in league play. Game time will be 3 PM.

FCC's sensational hurler Doug Hansen mowed down the American River College Beavers, pitching a two-hit shutout as the Rams swept a pair of VC games Saturday at Eulless.

Hansen fanned 11 men and allowed only two bases on balls on the way to his 2-0 win in the seven inning second game.

Lefty Bill Gavello turned in a solid performance in the first game with a 5-3 win for the Rams.

Gavello had a good day on the mound, allowing only six hits and striking out seven before being relieved by Bob Souza in the eighth.

Gavello took a line drive off his thigh in the eighth and appeared to be tiring slightly. Souza then relieved him and retired the Beaver batters in order.

Auten later stole home on a delayed steal to cap the rally.

The final Ram score came in the seventh on consecutive doubles by Bob Groth and Shannon.

The second contest was duel of the pitchers with Hansen and Beaver hurler John Lunden turning in fine performances.

Ed Boeger was the only Beaver who found the secret on Hansen, collecting both hits off him.

only losses in league play when they swept a twin-bill on their home diamond Mar. 18 in the VC opener.

Tennis Team Hopes For Weekend Wins

The Ram tennis team will continue its quest to escape the Valley Conference tennis cellar with two league matches in Sacramento tomorrow and Saturday.

Sacramento City College is the scene for Friday's match. Game time is 2:30 PM. American River College will be the Rams' opponent Saturday at 9 AM.

The Rams have a 0-3 league and 4-3 overall record. Coach Charles Stark said the team must win the remaining league matches to stay in competition.

Better Balance

Stark said all the teams in the league have improved this year, and that the league shows better balance than ever before.

Modesto Junior College, San Joaquin Delta College and the College of Sequoias were picked by Stark as the strongest teams in the league. ARC, last year's VC winner, may be a dark horse for the title.

Stark said the Rams' record could easily be 3-0 if the team had one more good player.

The Rams have lost all three league matches with 4-3 scores.

Defeat Merced

The netmen defeated Merced Junior College 9-0 here Mar. 18 in a non-league match. The team has won all of its non-league matches.

Stark commended John Gary, Everett Norcross, Randy van Oosten, Rick Kelly, Allison Callaway, Ed Ponce and Alan Schimmer for their work on the team this season.

Swimming Team Will Meet COS

Coach Gene Stephens' Ram swimmers will travel to Visalia to clash with the most powerful team in the Valley Conference, College of Sequoias, Tuesday at 4 PM.

Stephens said that COS is favored to win the VC title.

"The main objective of our boys this season is to improve their times in hopes of achieving new seasonal highs," he said.

Probable FCC swimmers in the COS meet will be Don Denny, Doug Fluter, Scott Holmes, Gary Martin, Lawrence Sadler, Roger Stromberg, Elden Rice, Darrel Johnson and diver Floyd Talbert.

The Ram tankers are looking forward to a double-dual meet with Sacramento City College and Modesto Junior College Apr. 6 in Modesto.

Linksman Will Play In Salinas

The FCC golf team will travel to Salinas to take on Hartnell College and Monterey Peninsula College in a dual-meet tomorrow at 1 PM.

Ram golfers placed 20th in the team standings at the Western Junior Golf Championship in Fresno during the Easter vacation break. The team had one trophy winner, Ed Mastropalo, who finished fourth in the second flight competition with a net 288.

FCC linksmen lost by a slim 423-404 when they faced American River College in Visalia Tuesday. Rams who played Tuesday and who play tomorrow are Ed Mastropalo, Dave Milutinovich, Jerry Borton, Allan Blaine Ghan, and Roger Stiles.

Ram Trackmen Will Host SJD Mustangs Tomorrow

By LLOYD CARTER

Ram spikers will clash with the San Joaquin Delta College Mustangs tomorrow on the Ratcliffe Stadium oval.

Starting time for the league meet is 3 PM.

FCC track coach Erwin Ginsburg considers the Mustangs "weak" and is confident of a victory.

"Progresively Tougher"

"After Delta the teams will get progressively tougher," Ginsburg said, "with Modesto next week, and American River the following week to be our toughest meet."

The Rams are currently 1-0 in league competition with an initial victory over Sacramento City College.

Coach Ginsburg said he is happy with his top boys but is concerned about overall team strength.
