

Drop in and rap, school is flexible

ASB President

Welcome!

As A.S.B. President it is my pleasure and privilege to greet this fall's students—both new and old—to our campus. It is my sincere hope that as students we all can meet the challenge of academic life with success.

I also hope that as college students you will participate fully in all student activities which will be sponsored by your student government. I feel that participation in student activities is as vital to your complete education as your classwork. Becoming a part of the system and understanding it, requires involvement on your part. The goal of your student senate for fall '72 is to keep you aware of what's going on on campus and make you aware of your Associated Student Body functions on campus sponsored for you by student government.

Make good use of your associated student body card and it will benefit you. I personally welcome any and all students to rap with me and your senate members about what turns you on. The Senate meets at 1 p.m. every

Ken Brown

Tuesday, in senate chambers. Drop in and participate.

Good Luck,
KEN BROWN

A.S.B. President

FCC President

Dear Students:

On behalf of the City College staff, greetings and welcome to the campus. I hope the year will be pleasant and rewarding for you. Your success as a student is our greatest concern and we are striving to provide the instructional services and the educational climate needed to assure that success.

As the year progresses and as you learn more about City College, you will find that you are attending a very flexible and accessible institution. Many kinds of programs and services are available to you and each is designed to help you reach your educational goals in the shortest possible time.

You will find that you are not necessarily locked into a traditional program of transfer studies. Various alternatives are open to you. However, I urge you not to overlook the values of the traditional college experience. It offers opportunity and challenge that can open doors to a world of ideas and understanding that experience teaches only slowly and often painfully.

You are enrolling in college at a time when many young people are discussing—and some are disputing—the values of a college education. I hope you will explore the opportunities fully and draw your own conclusions. Your college classroom experiences can be among the most valuable and invigorating of your life. Best wishes for your personal success during the 1972-73 year. We stand ready to help you.

Symphony orchestra will meet at nights

The FCC symphony orchestra will continue to meet Wednesday evening this fall to enable all interested State Center Community College District residents to participate.

The class will meet 7 to 10 p.m. in the college's bandroom, A-133. Adults may enroll on a credit or non-credit basis. High School students are invited to participate on a voluntary basis.

Orchestra director Alex Molnar said the course was rescheduled for evenings last spring to encourage the participation of more adults.

"Many amateur musicians play well but do not play often because of work or other conflicts," Molnar said. All orchestra rehearsals and performances will be scheduled during regular class time.

Try-outs slated

Drama play players sought

Tryouts for both fall productions of FCC's Theater Arts, "The Purification" and "You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running," will be held next week in the auditorium.

Director Frederick Johnson will conduct readings from 4 to 6 p.m. Monday for "The Purification," a one-act play by Tennessee Williams.

The play will be presented at FCC on Oct. 13, then toured to various high schools in the State Center Community College District. Johnson described it as "a highly dramatic and beautifully poetic piece about the Mexicans and Indians in the early Southwest."

There are parts for eight men and six women. The script also calls for a Spanish guitar player who can improvise music to accompany the action.

On Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m., Director Donald Gunn will hold tryouts for the fall major production, Robert Anderson's "You Know I Can't Hear You," etc.

This recent Broadway success includes four 1-act comedies all centered around one theme. It also has roles for eight men and six women, ranging from teenagers to the elderly.

All FCC students, not just drama majors, are eligible to try out for either or both plays.

Spring parking fees loom

Student and staff members at Fresno City College will continue to park there free until the spring semester, which begins in February.

Trustees of the State Center Community College district made this decision recently.

The board had planned on establishing parking fees to begin with the fall semester when they made a decision in June to establish fees.

The delay was suggested by Superintendent Stuart M. White and Garland P. Peed, assistant superintendent, business.

The fees had been planned to go into effect with the opening of a large new parking area at the south end of the campus and are planned to defray security, maintenance and other costs.

Peed said the area will not be ready for use until about Oct. 13, a month after fall classes begin. The contractor, the American Paving Company, has completed the main work but not the sealer, access drives, parking stripes and light poles.

The plan is to permit free parking there the remainder of the semester, then have the benefit of this experience to estimate costs before deciding how high the fees should be, he added.

The board also plans to establish parking fees at Reedley College with the completion of future new parking facilities there.

Bus service too much?

Is that State Center Community College District paying too much to provide bus service for Fresno City and Reedley College students?

Trustees Lynn B. Ford and Rudy S. Johnson believe the answer may be yes. At their instigation, the board has instructed district administrators to come up with cost studies.

The board contracts with Abbey Transportation of Fresno to run the district's seven bus routes, a service for which it paid $41,278 during the last school year.

Ford, the principal critic of the setup, says he does not blame Abbey Transportation for what he terms a higher-per-student transportation cost of $481 per year. He questions the district's efficiency in setting up the routes and designating bus sizes.

Jack L. Sawl, president of Abbey Transportation, said he feels he is providing the district with student bus transportation at a price competitors cannot match and will cooperate fully in providing data for cost studies.

Last year's cost breakdown is $17,672 at Fresno City College—$15,391 for the buses and $2,281 in driver wages—and $23,606 at Reedley College—$19,860 in mileage fees and $3,746 for drivers.

Sawl and Garland P. Peed, assistant superintendent, business, said smaller buses will be used this year on some routes. The mileage fee for small buses is 36 cents per mile, as against 43.5 cents for large ones.

Welcome Back

FCC students welcome each other back for a new academic year at Fresno City College.

Officials see future enrollment increase

State officials currently look for day enrollment in the State Center Community College District to increase by about one third over a period of the next 10 years.

Day enrollment in the district reached about 9,560 last fall, including 7,660 at Fresno City College and 1,900 at Reedley College. A combined figure of about 12,700 students is foreseen by the 1981-82 school year.

Continued growth will force an eventual decision about how to accommodate it. FCC already is serving more than the 7,200-student capacity for which it has been master planned. Plans to construct a third campus north of Fresno have been tabled for the time being.

The enrollment projection comes from the state department of finance. It was passed along to SCCC trustees by District Superintendent Stuart M. White.

The figures are used in formulas which determine the amount of state aid available to the district for new construction. They are revised periodically.

Nixon spurs Chinese language study interest

The evening division has included a four-unit beginning Chinese class in its 1972 fall curriculum. The class is one of 410 evening classes offered this semester.

Dr. Ward Lasher, assistant evening division dean, said President Nixon's trip to China last year has generated new interest in Chinese studies, and universities and colleges throughout the state are adding related classes to their curricula.

The FCC course will be offered from 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Mondays and Wednesdays.

John L. Hawken, who will teach the course, said Chinese is much easier to learn than any other language because it has no grammar nor specific structural forms. Hawken, a graduate of Stanford University and the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies, has taught Chinese at Central Union High School since 1964.

Students may enroll in the class through tomorrow. Applications are available in the evening division office, Room 13 of the Extension Building.

Ten students win cash

Ten Fresno City College students have been awarded Alpha Gamma Sigma scholarships valued at $750 for the 1972 fall semester.

AGS, the college's honor society, sponsors ten $75 scholarships each year. Open only to AGS members the scholarships are awarded to those contributing the most to the organization and to the promotion of scholarly activities. The competition is based on leadership, active participation in the club and the school and good citizenship.

Five of the awards go to returning AGS members and five are awarded to graduating AGS members who plan to continue their education at a four-year college or university.

Students who received the awards are Michael Adolph, Giuseppe Cannistraci, Jean M. Chadwick, Steve Herum, Bethany A. James, Thomas Novitzky, Leanne R. Parker, Suzanne L. Spencer and Kathleen Rudel.

AGS membership is open to all students achieving an overall grade average of 3.0 with a course load of 12 units or more and no grade lower than a C. Angelo Angarano is the club's adviser.

LETTER

Handicapper thanks McCully

Open Letter to FCC President Clyde C. McCully:

On behalf of all the handicapped students of FCC and myself, I would like to express our deeply felt thanks for giving the okay on having ramps and guard rails installed for the students who are currently confined to wheelchairs or use crutches or whatever who are presently enrolled at Fresno City College.

It will make Fresno City College more pleasurable to attend and make it easier to get in and out of the buildings.

We also would like to thank you for having the phones lowered. It will make it easier for a person in a wheelchair to reach the phone to dial.

We all know there is still a lot of apparatus to improve, like lowering the towel rack, widening the rest room stalls, making more parking zone for handicapped students, and designing it differently to make it safer.

We all appreciate everything that is being done and what will be done.

NEWS/BRIEFS

Tutor credits

Students who like to tutor other students can get college credit for such activity by enrolling in Ed. Aide 59, a one-unit course.

Instructor Bruce Morris said it involves tutoring three hours a week at the pre-elementary, elementary, junior high or community college levels.

Further information may be obtained from him in A-207A.

ID retakes

Students who failed to receive a photo identification card during registration are asked to report to Conference Room C for preparation of the card next week.

Dean of Men Richard Cleland said the room will be open for business from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

Failure to have your ID card made will cause serious delay during the next registration period, he added.

Class drops

Classes may be added or dropped today until 4 p.m. in the Student Lounge. Any future drops or adds will have to be taken care of at the Admissions Office.

Jobs in Europe will pay for trips there

Now any student can independently earn his or her trip to Europe by simply obtaining a paying job in Europe.

A few weeks work at a resort, hotel, or similar job in Europe paying free room and board plus a wage more than pays for the new $165 round-trip youth fare being offered by the scheduled airlines. A couple more weeks on the job earns money for traveling around Europe before returning home.

Thousands of paying student jobs are available in Switzerland, France, Germany, Italy and Spain. Neither previous working experience nor knowledge of a foreign language are required for many jobs.

However, to make certain every student gets off to a good start on their job the Student Overseas Services provides job orientation in Europe. Jobs immediately available include resort, hotel, restaurant, hospital, farm and sales work. Jobs almost always pay free room and board in addition to a standard wage.

Jobs, work permits, visas, and other necessary working papers are issued to students on a first come, first served basis. Although thousands of jobs are immediately available, applications should be submitted far enough in advance to allow SOS ample time to obtain the necessary working papers and permits.

Any student may obtain an application form, job listings, and the SOS Handbook on earning a trip to Europe by only sending their name, address, name of educational institution, and $1 (for addressing, handling, and air mail postage from Europe) to SOS - Student Overseas Services, Box 5173, Santa Barbara, 93108.

Chess club sets meeting

The FCC Chess Club will hold its organizational meeting for the fall semester at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday in Conference Room B.

Advisers Pete Lang and DeWayne Rail said the club will meet twice weekly at 12:15--Tuesdays in Conference Room B, Thursdays in Conference Room C.

Prospective members are welcome.

The club may co-sponsor a four-round amateur Swiss-system tournament in the FCC Cafeteria Sept. 30 and Oct. 1, open to anyone under master rating. Details will be announced later.

Enrollment facts

Fresno City College rosters show a peak enrollment of 7478 day students began the fall semester Monday. This is about 380 students or 4.8 per cent less than last year. However, college officials expect 180 to 200 more students to enroll by the end of this week.

Evening enrollment has increased 20 per cent this fall, with 5,048 students attending classes the first week.

Parking violators beware

Violators of campus parking regulations are subject to citations and having their cars towed away, according to Special Services Dean Paul Starr.

The new student parking lot south and east of the Library and Media Center will not be available for use until Oct.

13, he said. Barricades and signs must be observed.

The north half of University Avenue between the crosswalk to the Library and College Avenue is restricted parking for staff members assigned to this area. The curbs and parking stalls are marked in yellow.

SPEED READERS Bruce Smith (left seated) placed first in the FCC power reading contest last spring with 19,000 and 90 percent comprehension. Second was Steve Lamarche (right). Presenting the certificates are instructor Richard Sandau and lab assistant Loreen Leslie.

No. 1 man Greg Hall

Harriers to face Monterey

Head coach Bobby Fires will take his freshmen-dominated cross country team to Monterey Peninsula tomorrow to open the 1972 season. The dual meet is slated to begin at 4 p.m.

The Rams lost six of their first seven runners to graduation, with only No. 1 man Greg Hall (McLane) returning.

Hall, one of the finest distance runners in Fresno City College history, finished third at the state championships and set the mile and two-mile records at FCC last year. He should be even stronger this season after a weight-lifting program.

Other sophomores are Dave Blalock (Madera), Sam Saplen (Hoover) and Harry Nicholas (Reedley). Nicholas transferred to FCC after a year at the University of Nebraska.

Despite being inexperienced, Fires feels the Rams have "good potential."

"We have two months to get primed for the conference championships," said Fires, "so I'm not going to expect too much right away."

Unlike previous year, dual meets with conference rivals will have no bearing on who wins the league championship. The title won't be decided until Nov. 10 when all the teams gather in Fresno to do battle at Woodward Park. Fires said he likes the new setup.

The Rams are scheduled to compete in three invitationals this season, plus dual meets with Monterey Peninsula, last year's state champs El Camino, Modesto, Reedley and College of the Sequoias.

Fries is assisted by Coach Ken Dose.

Inexperienced poloists will open season

Fielding a team made up of mostly freshmen, the FCC water polo team will open the 1972 season against Cabrillo College Saturday at 10:30 a.m. in the FCC pool.

Some 18 swimmers turned out for the squad, but most did not play competitive water polo in high school.

"This team has more experience than any other team I've coached because many have competed at private swim clubs in the Fresno area. We're optimistic about the upcoming season because we should improve as we gain experience," said coach Gene Stephens.

Here are the possible starters for Saturday's match:

MIKE COLLINS--a freshman from Hoover...possible starter at goalie.

JAY ESPITALIER -- a sophomore from Hoover who saw action for the Rams last year...will play in the field.

RON DIXON -- a freshman from Clovis...will play in the field.

SHAWN HASSON -- a sophomore from Hoover who played on last year's team...will play in their field.

PAUL HOSLER -- a freshman from Hoover...will play in the field.

VINCE JURA--sophomore from Clovis who played most of last year at goalie. Jura was Clovis High's most valuable offensive player two years ago and a standout with the Rams last season...will play in the field.

JAY LAWRENCE -- a freshman from Hoover...will play in the field.

CARL THOMPSON -- a sophomore from Fresno who saw action last year...will play in the field.

LEONARD WALKER-- a freshman from Bullard...may start at goalie.

Other swimmers out for the team include Timothy Bawden (Bullard), Jeff Biehle (Fresno), Loren Brewer, (Clovis), Jeff Cash (Hoover), James Forbes (Hoover), Chris Netzley (Fresno), Stan Reynolds (Hoover), Warren Smiley (Bullard) and James Wallace (Fresno).

The Rams' schedule includes two tournaments, two practice games and 12 conference contests. Stephens selects College of the Sequoias as "undoubtedly" the team to beat in the Valley Conference.

"The Giants have a good influx of freshmen and excellent carryover from last season. They'll be strong."

Last year the Ram finished in last place with a 1-9 league ledger.

SCCCD elects officers

Trustees of the State Center Community College District elected officers and selected a site for a district office during the summer.

Lynn B. Ford, an Auberry area rancher who has represented the Clovis-foothill area of the district since its formation in 1964, was elected president, succeeding Rudy S. Johnson of Dinuba, who had held the post for the past two years.

Harry Hiraoka of Fowler was elected vice-president, and Baxter K. Richardson was re-elected board secretary.

Ford, who has operated a ranch near Auberry since 1938, has a background of more than 20 years service on school boards and organizations, including service on the Sierra Joint Union High School Board and on the board of the Auberry Elementary School District. He has twice been re-elected to the SCCC Board, in 1967 and again in 1971.

Hiraoka, who farms near Fowler, was first appointed to the board in November, 1966 to replace Elmina Teilman, who died while a member of the board. Hiraoka won a full four-year term in the election of June, 1967 and was re-elected in June, 1971 to a second four-year term.

Richardson, a Fresno attorney, is also an original member of the district board who has twice been re-elected to four-year terms. He has served 3 1/2 years as board president and has served as the board secretary for the past five years.

The board chose to build the new district office facility on land the district already owns northeast of the Fresno City College campus. The 17,000 square-foot district headquarters will be located north of Weldon Avenue between Calaveras and Glenn Avenues. Some type of facility to house the district administrative function had been under consideration for the past three years.

The new facility will provide space for the superintendent and assistant superintendents and their staffs; the district data processing operation; the personnel director and his staff; construction, facilities planning, and food service administrative personnel; and a board meeting room.

Rams to meet East LA

The Fresno City College football team will take to the gridiron for their season opener against the East Los Angeles College Huskies Saturday at 7:30 p.m. in L.A.

Head coach Clare Slaughter will start Rick Jelmini at quarterback in hopes the freshman from Clovis will eliminate the question mark that hangs over that position.

Ray Luna, who excelled at linebacker last season, has proved so valuable that he will start both ways at left inside linebacker on defense and at fullback on offense.

The Southern California Conference co-champion Huskies return with 18 lettermen, eight of whom are probable starters this year.

"Potentially this team could be one of the best we've ever had," said Huskie head coach Joe Goldin. "Our team is much larger defensively and slightly smaller offensively, so we should be just as strong, if not stronger than we were last year."

Individual standouts include sophomore middle guard Mike Martinez, who Goldin sees as a potential junior college All-American candidate, and second-year quarterback Alex Guzman, who's noted for his mobility and accurate arm. Flanker Reggie Pitcher is also highly touted.

The Rams bowed to East L.A. last year, 25-15.
